What is Adhoc Testing? (Explained with example)

What is Adhoc Testing?

What If I tell you to Test an app randomly?
- Website load
- Checki animations
- Valid logins
- Critical Flows

What if you start testing without documentation, unstructured way
- No Plan
- No Doc
- No Structure

Main Goal of Adhoc Testing
- Main Goal is to break the Application and find the defects, errors, bugs

When you perform the Adhoc Testing?
- After the formal test execution
- Good knowledge on the product

Adhoc technique - Error Guessing

What if I give you a Login Page How you can break it?
- Adhoc Testing

- Experience-based testing technique where the Test Analyst uses his/her experience to guess the problematic areas of the application.

Problems with Adhoc Testing
- Bug Reproduction
- Require skilled Tester

Types of Adhoc Testing

Monkey testing:
- Random tests

Buddy Testing
- Dev + Tester

Pair Testing
- Pair of testers Test an app
- Double Checking
- Focus on the Bugs, Errors, Defects
- Take notes,

Benefits of Adhoc Testing
- freedom to the tester to apply their own new ways of testing the application
- Can be done at anytime anywhere in the Software Development Life cycle (SDLC)
- Can be done by Stake holders
- Less Docs

Ref

Adhoc Vs Exploratory Testing
- https://sdet.live/4AvU

More of Adhoc Testing
- https://sdet.live/4Avr
- https://sdet.live/4Avs
- https://sdet.live/4AwY

How to do it like a Pro ? (Adhoc Testing)
- Prepare (know the product)
- Get a rough Idea
- Focus on Critical Flows
- Focus on breaking app
- There are no specific tools used in Ad hoc testing